Labour Court case update: Re-employed officials

Members were previously informed that the PSA was awaiting the records of this matter from the Council before it could proceed with the formal review application in the Labour Court (previous editions of Informus can be obtained from the PSA's website or PSA Offices).

The records received from the Council were incomplete, and the PSA requested that these be reconstructed. The PSA is pleased to report that the record reconstruction process was successfully finalised on 10 November 2026.

The PSA is now ready to proceed with the review application. Members will be informed of material developments and progress in the case.
