Urgent update: Late payment of salaries

The PSA has been made aware that some employees, particularly permanent employees, did not receive their salaries today, 25 November 2026. Members have raised concerns about the financial impact of the late payments at a time when they are already under economic pressure.

The PSA has alerted the employer and requested reasons for the delay. A formal response is still awaited.

During telephonic enquiries, the PSA was advised that a system glitch had caused the delay and that Finance was addressing the issue on an urgent basis. This information has not yet been confirmed in a formal response from the employer. The PSA has also requested that the employer must urgently issue an internal communication to inform affected members of challenges and provide an update on efforts to resolve these. Members will be kept informed.
