The Public Servants Association (PSA) has officially launched the Union's Bisho Satellite Office in the Eastern Cape on 29 January 2026, marking a significant organisational milestone.

The establishment of this Office represents the first of its kind and is part of the PSA's broader strategy to expand the Union's service footprint and improve accessibility for members. The launch ceremony was attended by the PSA General Manager, Mr Reuben Maleka, the Chairperson of the PSA Board, Mr Refitlhile Baloyi, PSA Board Member. Ms Dalinda Swart-Mocke, together with national and provincial management. Shop stewards from various departments across Bisho and King William's Town were also in attendance, where they collectively reaffirmed their commitment to strengthening and expanding the PSA's footprint in the area.

The strong representation of leadership, management, shop stewards and members at the launch underscores the collective commitment to bringing PSA services closer to members and enhancing service delivery at provincial level. Bisho, as the capital city of the Eastern Cape, is centrally and strategically located, thereby improving accessibility, visibility, and efficiency in service provision to public servants.

The PSA is confident that the establishment of the Bisho Satellite Office will significantly benefit public servants in the surrounding areas. The Office. Located at Sarhili Street, Bisho Park, 19 Amatola Business Village, is open weekdays from 07:30 to 16:00.
