UPDATE: COVID-19 preparedness plan NLSA

The National Library of South Africa (NLSA), has indicated to labour that they are committed to providing a safe and healthy workplace for all its employees, internal, and external stakeholders. The NLSA has developed a preparedness plan in response to the COVID-19 pandemic in terms of staff returning to work.

The employer has committed that all NLSA's three premises will be decontaminated and sanitised before staff return to work. In terms of the phasing-in of staff return, a schedule will be developed for the return of staff at all sites of NLSA. The employer has also indicated in terms of the draft plan, that identified staff who will be returning to work during this identified phase, will be determined by business needs.

PSA members need to take note that the engagement that took place on 27 May 2020 and was the first initial consultation in this regard.

Members will be kept up to date with developments.
