Election of PSA member structures

The PSA wishes to congratulate all management members on their election to leadership roles within the PSA member structures.

Election to these positions is testament to dedication, leadership abilities, and commitment to the values of the Union. The roles of Chairperson, Vice-Chairperson, Secretary, and Management Member carry significant responsibility, not only in managing the affairs of the respective structures but also in upholding its values and principles.

The PSA places enormous trust in management members as custodians of the values and brand of the PSA. Their leadership and actions can ensure the continued growth and success of the Union with their dedication, integrity, and vision playing a crucial role in shaping the direction of the organisation.

Management members are thus urged to remain steadfast in their commitment to excellence and to always prioritise the interests of members. Such leadership will be instrumental in fostering a culture of transparency, accountability, and inclusivity in the PSA. Together, we can overcome challenges, seize opportunities, and advance the mission of the PSA.

The PSA looks forward to close cooperation with management members to achieve shared goals and objectives.
