PSA urges Gauteng Department of Education to fast-track appointments and address non-payment of recently recruited employees

The PSA Provincial Office in Johannesburg received numerous concerns from employees who were appointed by the Gauteng Department of Education more than three months ago. These employees have already assumed duty at various schools but have not yet received their salaries. This situation has placed them under severe financial strain, forcing many to borrow money simply to travel to work.

PSA intervention

The PSA has formally written to the Department, urging it to ensure that these employees are captured on Persal without further delay to relieve their financial burden. The PSA also raised concerns regarding the prolonged delay in the appointment of IDSOs, despite the recruitment process having been finalised. These delays compromise the quality of education, as IDSOs occupy critical positions essential for supporting schools and learners. The PSA trusts that the HOD will act promptly to resolve these issues without delay.

The PSA is committed to protecting the rights and promoting the interests of members without fear or favour. Employees affected by this matter are encouraged to contact the following PSA representatives:
