Victory for PSA member

Department of Culture, Sports, and Recreation

The PSA recently secured another significant victory in defense of members' rights. A PSA member at the Department of Culture, Sports, and Recreation was charged with five counts of misconduct, ranging from sexual harassment, unacceptable behaviour, to carrying a firearm on the premises. Upon receiving the charges, the member approached the PSA for assistance with representation.

A local shop steward was promptly tasked to represent the member during the disciplinary hearing. Through diligent preparation and a strong presentation of the member's case, the shop steward successfully ensured that the matter was handled fairly.

As a result, the Chairperson issued a final written warning instead of a severe, punishable sanction. This outcome marks a victory for the PSA, where justice prevailed, and the member expressed great relief and appreciation for the Union's unwavering support and representation.

Employees who wish to join the PSA can contact Sylvia Watkins on 082 880 8941, Thandiwe Mziyako on 060 962 8512 or the PSA Provincial Office on (013) 741 7500.
