

PSA KwaZulu-Natal shop stewards shine

The PSA is extremely proud of 17 of the Union's shop stewards in KwaZulu-Natal for graduating with top honours, following their studies at the Workers' College in Durban.

The Workers' College was established with the objective of providing education to workers, leaders, and trade unions to empower them and their organisations.

The PSA's shop stewards (pictured below) tackled a course that covered Labour Economics Coverage: Activism, Economics in the Public Sector, Unionism, Members' Rights, Negotiation Skills, Research, etc. The course provided comprehensive knowledge and skills for shop stewards. Course work required complete dedication and commitment to ensure a clear understanding of union activism in the workplace.

Ernest Mkhize was also recognised for his outstanding performance in the course. He received the Top Achiever Trophy and Certificate. This award symbolises his exceptional leadership role and dedication, which were highly praised and celebrated by all graduates and the PSA. In addition, Ernest also completed a Negotiations Skills program with the University of Pretoria, achieving a distinction with a remarkable 100% score. This accomplishment highlights his level of dedication, high concentration, and attention to detail.

The PSA congratulates these 17 Union representatives and calls on all union representatives to take up opportunities to empower themselves through education in service of members.
